Special Medical Commission Not Satisfied That Chinaman Has Been Cured.

HE MUST REMAIN ISOLATED.

Health Commissioner Starkloff Receives Reports From Physicians Who Examined the Patient.

Dong Gong, the Chinese leper, has been sent back to quarantine. He has not been cured, as was believed when he was transferred from his isolated cottage to the old City Hall a few days ago.

The following letter to Health Commissioner Starkloff from Doctor H. H. O'Hann-Dumensil, one of the committee of physicians selected to examine the Chinaman's condition, resulted in Dong Gong's removal back to quarantine. The letter was received by Doctor Starkloff yesterday and is self-explanatory:

Doctor Starkloff, Health Commissioner:—In accordance with your request, I have thoroughly examined Dong Gong, the Chinese leper, and in my opinion, he is not cured, and should be sent back to quarantine. In addition to the foregoing letter, a report was also submitted by Doctor M. F. Engman, another member of the commission. Doctor Engman says it is impossible to tell whether Dong Gong is cured or not, and that, judging from the history of leprosy, he recommends that the case be kept in this particular case, he says, the patient's social and hygienic status must be taken into consideration.
